Ingalls Reported to Be Hunting for

ALLIANCE CONGRESSMEN AS EDITORS.

They Will Establish a Newspaper in Washington.

THE PRESIDENT IS MUCH DISGRUNTLED

At the Opposition to Him in the Indiana Convention-Russell Harrison in the Press Gallery.

Washington, March 11 .- (Special.)-Ex-Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, is reported to be on a still hunt for further political honors. It is said by his friends that he will not be a candidate against Senator Perkins for the seat of the late Senator Plumb, now occupied by Perkins, but he will ask for a nomination as congressman at large next fall. The cynical ex-senator says he would rather be in the lower branch of congress than to occupy a seat among the millionaires of the upper branch.

The alliance is anxious for the repub licans to nominate Ingalls because they think he is the easiest man to beat in the state. Jerry Simpson declares that with Ingalls at the head of the republican ticket the alliance candidate would be elected by 40,000 majority.

The scheme of the alliance congress men to establish in this city a congressional committee on the lines of the democratic and republican committees meets with general favor among the leading men of that party, both in and out of congress. They propose to go further than the two old parties, in that they will establish a daily paper at the national capital and run it, or at least try to run it all the year round. A prominent allianceman said to The Constitution correspondent tonight, that instead of being represented in the next congress by nine men they would have twenty-five, "and." he added, "they will be men elected from the western country, having no affiliation with the democratic party. It is my opinion that the two old parties will be so evenly balanced in the next house that we will control the balance of power and elect a speaker. We do not look for much aid from the south, but expect all our new men to come from the west and porthwest. It is hard," he continued, "to make a strong allianceman out of the average southern man. He is a natural-born democrat and on party questions will be always, or nearly always, found voting with the democratic

The action of some of the delegates to the Indiana republican convention yester-day in openly repudiating President Harrison, has been the talk at the capitol today. The president himself is considerably agitated over the matter, notwithstanding the fact that his friends assert that it was not much of a storm after all. The fact is, however, that neither the president nor the office holders who brought about his made-to-order endorsement yesterday, can scarcely deny that the president is cordially hated by a large and influential republican element in his own state. The men who led the revolt yesterday are determined and aggressive fighters and it is not believed that even after President Harrison is renominated can they be brought into line. The threat made that the president would loose Indiana if renominated is believed to be more than probable by astute politicians at the national capital. Russell in the Gallery. Prince Russell Harrison today made application for membership in the press gallery. In doing this he signed a pledge that he had no interest in any bills before congress. Prince Russell is credited to The Montana Journal. The application was made for him by the representative of Colonel Shepard's New York newspaper and the report is that the prince will be used as a rival to Tim Campbell, who writes Washington letters from Washington for a rival evening paper. According to the report Prince Russell's letters will appear in the Saturday issue of Colonel Shepard's paper. Blaine's Condition.

Secretary Blaine is not as well today as he was yesterday. Dr. Hyatt, his physician, attributes Mr. Blaine's failure to improve to the sudden change in the weather, which has caused wide-spread sickness among public men here. Still, the secre-tary has not had what could be likened to a relapse. He did not rest so well last night, owing to the increase of his cough, and this naturally weakened him. Mr. Blaine is not allowed to read the newspapers, and is kept perfectly quiet. He is not likely to be in condition to leave his bed for a week or more. Congressman Turner has been receiving congratulations all day upon his speech of the tariff de-livered yesterday. Even many republicans told him that, from a democratic stand-point, it was a very able effort.

Will Go to Charlotte. A delegation from Charlotte, N. C. arrived in Washington today to present a formal invitation to Senator David B. Hill to deliver the anniversary address at the commemoration of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence at Charlotte, on May 20th. The delegates consisted of R. J. Brevard, mayor of the city, E. D. Latta, J. L. Chambers, J. F. Robertson, T. R. Robertson, Jerome Dowd, J. P. Caldwell, and Wade H. Harris of The Charlotte Daily News. The delegation met Senator Hill at 1 o'clock and he cordially accepted the invitation. Senators Ransom, Vance, and Butler, and all the North Carolina representatives, will accompany Senator Hill to Charlotte. Speaker Crisp also said that he would be of the party.

Much Tariff Eloquence. Thirty-six members of the house have recorded their names in Speaker Crisp's memorandum of intending speakers on the tariff question. The list ncludes only two or three members of the ways and means committee, but all the members of that committee may be expected to be heard from except Springer. There are still others who expect to speak on the tariff issue who have not yet recorded their intention and the list is constantly growing. None of the names recorded announce the subject of the in-tended speech-making to be other than the tariff question in general.

More New States. The committee on territories has com-pleted the consideration of the bill for the admission of New Mexico. There are some admission of New Mexico. There are some amendments made in minor points which prevent the completion of the report in time for its consideration by the committee today, but this will be done next week. The bill will provide for the constitutional conventions to be held next December, to be followed by the election for state efficient. ventions to be held next December, to be followed by the election for state officers in April, 1863. The out for the admission of Arizona, will also be reported within a few days. Both territories are democratic, and when admitted into the hause as states, will send four democratic United States senators.

States senators.

Hou. Price Gilbert, of Columbus, is in the city today, having spent several days n New York. He had a long talk this orenoon with Speaker Crisp.

Senator Proctor on Harrison.

The most important pice of political news which has been heard around the capitol in ome time was set afloat today by a remark some time was set afloat today by a remark of Senator Proctor. It will be remembered that Senator Proctor was a member of President's Harrison's cabinet, until he voluntarily resigned to accept a seat in the senate a short time ago.

While in the official family of the president the senator was considered as the closest to the president of any of his cabinet officers, and consequently the expression of opinion which he makes concerning the policy of the president in a political way, has more than usual interest attached to it. Senator Proctor, in conversing with another senator, expressed the opinion very emphatically that the time had passed when a man can be elected to succeed himself to the presidency in this country. He added that it might take one or two more campaigns to convince the country of this, but it was nevertheless true.

The senator said further that he believed that President Harrison had no desire for a renomination, and he intimated that an announcement of this character would be forthcoming before the Minneapolis convention.

Why Harrison Walted.

The senator, to whom the remark was made, was asked if he did not think it somewhat strange that President Harrison should have waited until this time before aunouncing himself, and to this he replied:

"No, I don't think it strange at all. The president could not declare that he was not a candidate for renomination so long as Mr. Blaine had not defined his own position; otherwise it might have been stated with a good deal of force that the president had taken this step because he was afraid that Mr. Blaine would defeat him for the nomination. Now that Mr. Blaine has declared himself, it is easy for the president to step out, if he so desires. Whether he is or not a candidate, one thing is certain, and that is that the anti-Harrison faction in the republican party in the senate is pretty generally united upon a programme, and that pregramme is to procure as many uninstructed delegates to the Minneapolis convention as they possibly can, in the hope that by dividing up the delegation they will be able to swing away from the president enough votes to secure the nomination of some one personally more satisfactory to them."

Personal Menton.

J. J. Pitman of Cedatytyre, he take the means a state of the state of them."

J. J. Pitman, of Cedartown, has taken up his residence at the national capital. He has entered a well-known real estate firm.

F. J. Jacobus, Captain McPate and Mr. Cook, of Hawkinsville, were among the visitors at the capitol today.

Immense Drifts of Snow.

Oswego, N. Y., March 11.—The blizzard has complete possession of this town. All the railroads are blocked, therefore no mails, and the wires are down. No trains are running. The railroad cuts are filled to the top. There are immense drifts in the principal streets ten feet deep. Nearly all business has stopped. It's the worst storm in years.

THE FIGHT IN ALABAMA.

Attempt to Carry Jones's Home County for Montgomery, Ala., March 11.—(Special.)—A sensation was created here today among local politicians by a rumor which gained circulation, that Kolb's supporters for governor, in this city, had been making a still hunt in Montgomery, and that they had "fixed" ward three expecting to carry it, holping that with it, with the county bolts they counted on carrying, that Jones's home county would fall into the Kolb column. The Jones club at once took steps to prevent any such a disaster to the governor's cause. The club has been quite active all ady, and after making a thorough canvass of the ward tonight, have concluded that they have no cause for alarm over the result of tomorrow's primaries in this city. It is confidently asserted by Governor Jones's friends that Montgomery is safe on the Jones column, and that there is not the least cause for alarm.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 11.—The joint conference of the senate and house commit-tees on the congressional district apportion-ment spent yesterday afternoon in secret ses-sion, and last night reported that they had sion, and last night reported that they had agreed upon a bill.

The committee has succeeded in forming fourteen democratic and one republican district, and the results of the agreement will be reported to a joint senate and house causeus tonight. According to the provisions of the agreed bill the only republican district is composed of South St. Louis and the adjacent territory.

WATTERSON TALKS.

The Nomination of Cleveland Would Rasping Comments from the Terminal Be Sheer Suicide,

FOR DEFEAT WOULD BE CERTAIN While Other Democrats Were Struggling With Demons GROVER WAS PASSIVE AND SILENT.

He Is a Good Tariff Reformer, but No Better Than Half a Dozen Others. He Is Not a Moses.

Chicago, Iil., March 11.—An authorized in-terview with Henry Watterson is made public. Mr. Watterson read the interview after it was written and endorsed it as correct. Three questions were propounded. The first and second are related to Mr. Watterson's well known views upon the tariff and silver. The third, and most important question, that of the wered last. He said:

"I have never indulged myself very much in hero worship, and any good democrat whom the national convention may see fit to nominate, will suit me. If I had to put a man in the white house he would be Carlisle. I regard him as the best equipped democrat in public life. He is able and honest. He is sound to the core and has the courage of his convictions. He was making great expositions in democratic lore and leading demo-cratic tariff battles when Cleveland was mayor ident. Him aside, anybody will suit me who does not come from New York."

"Why so?" nomination of any New Yorker impossible. Governor Hill has killed Cleveland, and in doing so he has almost killed himself. The mination must come from the west, or go to Massachusetts, Pennsylvania or Maryland. If we could not elect Cleveland in 1888, when he was in the white house, and when we had all outer forms and shows of harmony in the state of New York, what chance should we have against the present vehement opposition?

Cleveland Is Not a Moses. "Cleveland made us a good president. In great affairs he has many of the elements of a great man. I am most sincerely his friend. But I must contest, and sometimes I feel like resenting the notion that he is our sole, our only and most original Moses in the three years of his old 'administration to pass ocrats were struggling with the demons of darknesss he was passive and silent. When he did speak out he spoke well, but he was so skeptical of the issue he had himself precipitated. He sent Gorman and the late William L. Scott to St. Louis with a cut and dried platform, ignoring his own message, ignoring the Mills bill and reasserting as his party law the straddle we had made in Chicago in 1884.

leveland's Nomination Would Be Suicide. "I do not mean to impeach or criticize Cleveland in the least. He is as good a tariff half a dozen who have an equal claim with him to public confidence. In the face of the New York schism it seems to me his nomination would be sheer suicide, and I have so much respect for his sense of dignity and honor that I take it for granted that he will "Do you think Senator Palmer is too old?"

"Why, what is the matter with Gladstone "Why, what is the matter with Gladstone or Bismarck? No, icertainly not. He is an excellent man, and if there are incessink holes in his record he would make an excellent candidate. So would Governor Boies, of Iowa. So would Governor Russell, or Governor Patterson, or Gorman, if we decide to go east. The woods are full of admirable possibilities."

In reference to a hint that he himself might be a candidate, Mr. Watterson remarked:

Watterson Has No Chance.

"When there has been a foreign war, and I have had an opportunity to sink my confederate record under a union commission and do prodigies of valor on the tented field, or words to that effect, come to me and I will talk to you about it."

HUNDREDS OF LIVES LOST.

Explosion of Fire Damp in a Mine at Char

lerol, Belgium. Brussels, March 11 .- An accident ocurred today in the colliery near Charleroi, hich it is feared will result in great loss if life. Tremendous excitement prevails in the vicinity of the pit. Men, women and children have assembled in enormous crowds, and are wild with fear, for it is thought that when an entrance is made to the colliery the loss of life will be found to be appelling.

the colliery the loss of life will be found to be appalling.

Of 300 men at work, only three have thus far arrived at the mouth of the pit in safety. The effect of the explosion was terific. The cage and ventilator were shattered. The destruction of the ventilator adds an element of great danger to the situation. The men, if any survived the shock of the explosion, are apt to meet their death from chokedamp, as with the destruction of the ventilator it is impossible to rid the mine of gases.

destruction of the ventilator it is impossible to rid the mine of gases.

A large number of the miners are married, and their families are at the pit's recuth frantic with grief. The worst is feared, and the mine officers and gendarmes have the greatest difficulty in preserving space sufficient for the rescuing party that has been organized to work in.

Volunteers are plentiful and almost superhuman efforts are being made to clear the shaft.

Fire in Albany.

Albany, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—At an early hour this morning a shanty, occupied by an old negro man and his only child, on the Mobley place, seven miles from this city, was discovered to be on fire. The old man had gone to the field to work, and left his child in bed asleep. Mr. George Walker, Jr., who lives on the place, first discovered the fire, and, breaking into the house, at the imminent risk of his own life, rescued the little negro; not, however, before she was burned so badly that she lived but a short time afterwards. The house and contents were entirely destroyed. Senator Hill's Dispatch.

JUDGE EMORY SPEER IS CRITICISED

It Is Intimated That He Has Made Up His Mind.

TO NAME A PERMANENT RECEIVER.

Dan Rountree Is Accused of False Swearing-The Directors Scored by the Temporary Receiver.

New York, March 11.—(Special.)—The officers of the Richmond Terminal Company will make no vigorous fight against the movement to place the Central railroad in the hands of a permanent receiver. They believe in the first place that the fight is being made by Mr. Rountree and other lawvers simply for the purpose of making a reputation for themselves personally. They likewise say that a fight would be useless, because it seems to them that Judge Speer has already determined in his own mind to appoint a permanent receiver.

Mr. Inman and other prominent men in the Terminal company told me today that the Central railroad had proven somewhat of an elephant on the hands of the Terminal, though they believe that if the lease remained unbroken, matters would turn out all right in the end. If the road is placed in the hands of a permanent receiver, holders of the stock here and those interested in the Terminal company predict that the Central will go down to forty.

A prominent Georgia man here who holds a large block of Central stock, said today that the only people who would be hurt by Mr. Rountree's action, would be the minority atopyholders. He said if the minority atopyholders. ity stockholders. He said if the minority stockholders. He said if the minority stockholders intend making a protest, it would have been wisest for them to have held off until the Terminal company failed to pay the guaranteed 7 per cent dividend. As it is now if the road is placed in the helicorest to the pay the guaranteed to be a second to the pay the guaranteed and the pay the payment of hands of a permanent receiver, he believes the stock will be very much depreciated and the dividends will be small, if any at all. Glad for It to Go.

Colonel Imman said today that contray to the last report the lease of the Central by the Richmond and Danville had been confirmed by the directors of the latter. The stockholders have not voted upon it, but the directors had the power to approve and confirm the lease.
"The Richmond and Danville," said be, "is in good shape financially. Nobody need bother himself about its credit. The fraishments which have been spoken of which recently, were brought about by Alfred Sully and other antagonistic interests. The fixed interest payments for the pext few months will be light, especially if the Danville is relieved of the Georgia Central payments by order of Judge Speer."
Colonel Inman does not seem to be at all arnoyed over the prospects of the Central being taken out of his system, though he would prefer to have it as it has been, for be has great confidence in the earning ca-earned the guarantee upon its stock made by the Terminal during the past few Prodding Judge and Lawyer. The Terminal people, I believe, are going attempt to make it warm for Judge Speer and for Mr. Rountree. One of them informed me today that he was looking up Speer and for Mr. Kountree. One of them informed me today that he was looking up Judge Speer's record and perhaps would take steps to impeach him. The statement v.as, however, made in a vague sort of a vay. But they are after Mr. Rountree, and say they have quite a good chance of convicting him of perjury and-sending him to the penitentiary. They claim that Mr. kountree has made a number of false charges in his bill, which he has sworn to as being actual facts, instead of swearing as to his best knowledge and belief. Altractive, the matter seems to be in a very much mixed condition, and the Terminal people seem disposed to fight Judge Speer and Mr. Rountree, more than for the possession of the Central stock at any figures. There was a rumor about Wall street today that the Terminal people themselves are back of the Central receivership in order to wreck the road and gobble it up entirely for nothing. But there are many rumors floating about. You simply have to take your choice.

The CENTRAL Will FIGHT

THE CENTRAL WILL FIGHT.

Its Directors Do Not Want a Permanent

Receiver Appointed. Savannah, Ga., March 11.-(Special.)-An important meeting of the board of directors of the Central Railroad and Banking Company was held at the bank this morning. The local directors were all there, and in addition, several out of town directors were present; among them being Messrs. C. H. Phinizy, Uriah B. Harrald and E. P. Howell. The meeting was called by President Alexander to consider the situation, and to decide as to what course of action should be pursued in view of the receivership.

After a long discussion, in which all took part, it was decided that the attorneys of the company should be instructed to resist the efforts that will be made in the United States company should be instructed to resist the efforts that will be made in the United States court at Macon, next week, to place the property in the hands of permanent receiver, and to maintain the legality and desirability of the lease to the end. This means that the legal fight over questions of vast importance, arising out of Mrs. Clarke's bill, will be a long and bitter one, and that the defendants will be represented by astrong array of counsel. It is presumed that the action of the directors this morning is in accordance with the determination expressed on the part of the other defendants to sue, the principal one being the Richmond Terminal, to maintain the condition of affairs existing before the filing of the suit, at any cost, if possible. The hearing before Judge Speer under these circumstances must continue for several days. It is probable that it will occupy five or six days and may even run over into the next week.

General Alexander Is Mad.

General Alexander Is Mad.

General Alexander Is Mad.

General Alexander was seen at his office by The Constitution correspondent and said:

'This thing will be fought to the end." That is what this morning's decision means. 'One of the most astonishing thing in connection with the suit,' he continued, 'is this action of the stockholders of the Augusta and Savannah railroad. Indeed, so absurd was it that it is difficult to characterize it in parliamentary language. The idea of the movement is to have the rental of the road made a fixed charge. What is it now but a fixed charge? What is the use of adding to the excitement and uneasiness to accomplish a thing that is already accomplished? Has the Central railroad ever acted as if the rental was anything else but a fixed charge? The contracts with the Augusta and Savannah and the Southwestern roads are old ones, running back many years, made in good faith and maintained in good faith. The Central railroad has carried out its agreements in every respect, and will continue to do so if it dies in the effort. Such steps as were taken are absurd, uncalled for, and totally unnecessary.

A Sharp Criticism.

"When it comes to any movement on the part of the stockholders of one of these roads, as I am informed, some of the Southwestern are contemplating, or have already done, to take steps with regard to the lease of the Central, one way or the other. I hardly know how to express myself. The only result of such actions is to further complicate matters and tend to embarrass the company, which, as I have said, has never, and never expects to, fail to keep its contract with them to the letter. By such conduct they merely damage our credit abroad and create the impression in the north that we are fighting down here like a lot of Kilkenny cats. It is necessary for one to speak strongly in this connection, although I do not like to use, harsh terms in respect to any person or persons."

General Alexander was considerably excited over the matters to which he referred, and it was quite evident that he considered certain things as gross interference with the Central railroad's rights.

THE PAPERS SIGNED

Rathlying the Purchase of the Sloss Iron and Steel Company.

New York, March 11.—(Special.)—The agreement for the sale of the Sloss Iron nd Steel Company and the Debardeleber Coal and Iron Company to the Tenness

Coal and Iron Company to the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company was signed today by the presidents of the three companies. The stockholders of the three companies will be called together; as soon as possible, to ratify the trade. Twenty million dollars of new stock and $20,000,000 of bonds will be issued, and these will absorb the entire stock and liabilities of the three companies. Directors and officers, will be elected at the meeting of the stockholders to ratify the deal. There is no doubt that Thomas C. Platt will be re-elected president, and the vice presidents will probably be Nat Baxter. Jr., of Nashville, and Thomas Soddon of Birmingham. After taking up all the stock and liabilities of the three companies, the new company will three companies, the new company will have a surplus of $1,000,000 in stock and $2,800,000 in bonds left in the treasury. This will be applied to the development of the company's vast coal and iron property in Alabama and Tennessee.

THE WEEK'S TRADE.

Week. New York, March 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review says: Business fallures occurring throughout the country during the last week number for the United States 230, Canada, 26; total 256. Distribution of prodlast week number for the United States 230. Canada, 26; total 256. Distribution of products is unquestionably improving. Transactions are, on the whole, larger than a year ago in spite of depression at the south, being very much larger at the west. Nor is the improvement confined to that section; though general there, it is also more distinctly felt in eastern cities, and there are not wanting signs that trade at the south, though still much embarrassed by the low price of cotton, is steadily gaining. With all the great industries active, with money a bundant is spite of gold exports, and with speculation kept in wholesome check the outlook would seem to be unusually favorable, notwithstanding general complaints that prices are low and margins of profit unusually small.

Iron has been a dismal feature, but instead of a decrease the weekly output shows a large increase, so that March 1st it was the largest ever known—192,902 tons against 188,135 ast December, hitherto the maximum. Rails are inactive, but is dull and plates weaker.

The textile industries are improving. Sales of wool at Boston. Philadelphia and New York for the year now exceed last year to the same date by 4,700,000 pounds or 10 per cent; in knit goods buyers hesitate. Trade in everry department.

At Philadelphia while iron is demoralized, cotton goods is largely in excess of last year's sales in February, showing a big increase in everry department.

At Philadelphia while from is demoralized, the market for wool is in buyer's favor, liberal orders appear for dry goods and trade, except with the south is the best for many years. In groceries, paints, oils and glass there is gasual improvement and in tobacco, the larger cigar makers being busy.

Pittsburg finds the volumes of trade in iron smaller and some further talk of closing furnaces, but the glass trade is fair. Louisville reports the largest sales of tobacco in the history of the trade, and a general improvement, usiness is fair but improving at Nashville and Memphis and some improvement is seen at New Orienns, where sugar is rising with an active demand and a better feeling is seen in cotton. Speculation in products is weak, wheat oring 2 3.4 cents Lower and corn 1.4 cent, exports falling much below those of recent weeks.

Depression in Cotton and Wheat.

Depression in Cotton and Wheat.

Depression in Cotton and Wheat.

The government reports that after the enormous movement, thus far 171,000,000 bushels of wheat remained in farmers' hands on March 1st, the largest proportion ever reported, tends to depress prices further. Onts and pork products are unchanged; oil 3-8 higher, but coffee 3-8 lower. The drop of 1-8 in action puts the price down to 6.93c, the lowest for more than forty years, and recents continue to exceed last year's, though this week exports fall behind. All exports from New York show a decrease for the month thus far of about 8 per cent. The entgo of gold does not entirely cense. though st-rling exchange has declined to $4.87 1-2.70. It is understood that Austrian preparations permit a small premium to be paid.

Thouga money is abundant rates on call have slightly advanced and the market for commercial loans is a little stiffer at most cartern cities.

Bristol, Tenn., March 11.—(Special.)—The startling news has reached here from Whitesburg, Ky., a small mountain town twenty of thirty miles north of this city, that a duel of pitched battle, or some other kind of bloody fight, had taken place. It comes that there are fight, had taken place. It seems that four persons were engaged in some manner in the fight. On the forenoon of yesterday, J. L. Asher, a well-known man of that section, and Mr. Polly had a dispute which resulted in a fight. Neither was seriously injured. Mr. Polly's wife is charged with being too intimate with Asher. Threats have been made and trouble has been anticipated recently. The forenoon skirmish didn't quiet the matter, but one Combs, and Polly called on Dick Williams, his brother-in-law. Each received

How They Fought.

Armed with trusty Winchesters, the four started from their homes toward the same spot. When 200 yards apart a halt was made, but soon they closed up the space. The signal was made and the firing began. Forty shots were exchanged. A ball from the gun of Williams finally went home. It struck Asher on the left breast, an inch above his nipple, and penetrated his body. He died instantly. Combs, his partner, was captured. Further, particulars your correspondent failed to

For some time those in charge at Morris's wagon yard on Decatur street have been annoyed by prowlers. The matter was reported to the police and a request made that they keep the place clear.

About 10 o'clock last night it was reported to Shepperd that a young man was in the yard, beting suspiciously. The patrolman quickly went to the place and as he entered the prowling party jumped from some lumber and male for the railroad. The officers followed in hot pursuit.

The man reached a fence, which he leaped over. Set pard reached that polat just as the fugitive was about to cross the tracks, and immediately he raised his pistol and fired twice. With the intention of hitting the mark. In the darkness the man got away but drops or blood showed that he had been hit. It is not knewn low be-ly he was injured.

The effect says that the young man was well dreased. He does not know his name or his errand.

TWO SISTERS PULL HAIR. They Settle a Dispute in Old-Time Pugilistie

Style.

A desperate fight occured at 13 Colling street last night. The place is run by Madame Belle Burton, and she and her sister, Madame Willie Burton, were the pricipals. It was started by a visit of the latter woman to the house. Bad blood seems to have existed between the two for some time. Last night they met, and instantly assailed one another vigorously.

The two sisters fought each other most desperately the encounter taking place first in doors and then in the street. No weapons except fists were used. There was no interference until Patrolman Ethridge rushed up and separated the combatants, who were badly bruised.

The moment Madame Belle Burton was seized by the officer, her sister again aniled into her, and before she could be stopped, had succeeded in coloring Belle's eye. Both participants were taken to police headquarters, and a case made against them.

It will be called in the police court this afternoon before Recorder Pro Tem. Hill. Style.

A Thomasville Blaze. Thomasville, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) Mrs. John Watts's residence on Broad street, was destroyed by fire this morning at 4 o'clock. Part of the furniture was saved. The origin of the fire is unknown. It was insured in the Southern Mutual for $3,800. The above amount does not cover the loss.

There was an exciting rifle match here this afternoon. The Thomasville Guards were challenged by the visitors and citizens team. A large number witnessed the match. The Guards won the score, resulting in 56 to 74.

WHEN ARRESTED FOR SEDUCTION.

The Serious Charge Against Lawyer Grant-The Case to Be Considered at Clarksville This Week.

Cuthbert, Ga., March 11 .- (Special.)-Cuthbert experienced a big sensasion today. J. H. Grant, of Habersham county, Georgia, one of the most popular and wellknown cadets at our agricultural and military college, furnished it.

Little did Grant expect when he retired last night, with the satisfaction of knowing that he was prepared for his college duties today, that he would awake to find himself in the clutches of the law. But such was the case, for on the early cannon-ball train come W. B. and T. H. Ellard, brothers, from Habersham county. And they brought with them a warrant charging Grant with the seduction of their sister.

Chief of Police Taunton was soon called in and served the warrant by arresting Giant. He was very much surprised, but quietly submitted to the arrest, and seemedperfectly willing to go back with them to enswer the charge, which he said was a conspiracy to humiliate and extort money from him. He claimed he could easily es tablish his innocence.

Grant has been a pupil at the college since January. He is a close student, popular with the boys, and had gained the confidence of our people, usually given to the college students who show they deserve it. In other words, his deportment was faultless. He was in the Bible class in the Sabtath school, lectured the young people on the Sabbath at the churches and was looked upon as a model young man. There were no suspicions of the dark cloud hovering over him.

A short while since, Grant furnished a sensation for our people by claiming to have been robbed on one of our principal thoroughfares by a footpad of $115.

The Ellards are brothers of Miss Georgia M. Ellard, said to be a very attractive and pretty young lady, the daughter of N. H. C. Ellard, a merchant of Turnerville, Habersham county. CAUSE OF THE BLOODY AFFAIR.

Bartlett Made a Feint in the First Quarrel to Draw a Pistol-After-wards He Was Shot.

Macon, Ga., March 11 .- (Special.)-What may result in a tragedy occurred last night at the home of Mr. J. R. Hamlin, on the corner of Ross and Elm streets.

The trouble originated at a party given by several young ladies at Mr. Hamlin's house, and among the guests who were present were Mr. Paul Williams and a young man named Bartlett, who hails from Fort Valley While the dance was in progress the attention of Mr. Hemlin was called to a disturbance going on in the yard between several young men, among whom were Williams and Bartlett, and ne went out and remonstrated with them.

Bartlett asked Hamlin "What he had to do with it," and placed his hand on his hip do with it," and placed his hand on his hip pocket. This menacing movement entaged Mr. Hamlin, who dashed into the house, secured a stick and started out again, but was prevailed on by friends to desist. In the meantime the young men had left.

They ..... not return until the ball was breaking up, when one of them approached Mr. Hamlin and apologized for the violent worder of one of the athers, claiming that

The Officials Looking for Clues-The Coroner Will Hold an Inquest Today-Other News.

Rome, Ga., March 11 .- (Special.)-The finding of an infant's body late yesterday, and the sensational circumstances surrounding the finding, is causing some excitement in Rome. A negro named Sailor Daniels, who lives just outside the city limits, was on his way home, going by the Summerville road, but to save distance left the road and crossed a piece of hilly woodland. The ground was well covered with leaves and he suddenly stumbled into a hole which was partly filled with leaves.

Getting out, he was horrified to see the partially covered face and form of an infant f a few days or hours old. Decomposition had commenced and it had probably been there some days. He summoned aid and had the child removed to his house near by, and the coroner notified. This official had the infant removed to town and last night called a jury and the county and city physicians. Dr. C. S. Harris was made foreman of the jury, and the investiga Dr. McCall, who examined the body carefully, was positive as to the race, on account of the length of time it had been dead. The features were gentle, the hair straight and the skin very clear and white. One fact he was positive of however, and that was that the child had been murdered.

The skull was sufficiently crushed to produce death, and the little girl's mouth was suffed with feathers, which alone would have caused death by suffocation.

Sailor Daniels, the negro who found the child, was carefully and thoroughly questioned, but we information was obtained.

Alpharetta, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Mr. W. C. Anderson, whom the ordinary has appointed sheriff, has agreed to equally divide the proceeds of his office with Mrs. Averilla Mayfield, the widow of our lambamented sheriff. He also allows her the privilege of retaining the jail until next January. This is certainly a kind consideration, which commends Mr. Anderson to all good people. It will be a great help to Mrs. Mayfield, who is left helpless in the world with several little ones to care for. Such acts of kindness never go unrewarded and we predict that Mr. Anderson will long occupy a prominent place in the hearts of season is the body so susceptible to the benefits to be derived from a good medicine, as in March, April and May. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the people's favorite spring medicine. It stands unequaled for purifying the blood, curing scrofula, salt rheum, etc., regulating the kidneys and liver, repairing nerve tissues, strengthening and invigorating the whole body, as well as checking the progress of acute and chronic disease, and restoring the afflicted parts to a natural, healthy condition. It you have never tried Hood's Sarsaparilla for your "spring medicine," do so this season,

They Forgot to Settle.

Canton, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Two of our most prominent citizens went to Jasper last week and spent the night at a leading hostelry there, and in there haste to leave early next morning forgot to settle their bills. That evening, however, Sheriff Kitchen called upon them in an official capacity, and our prominent citizens at once realized the predicament in which their early rising had placed them. But, before the train came Monday, when our sheriff was to carry them back to Jasper, explanations were made and a good laugh had all alcund at the captain's and Sam's discomfiture and expense.

Many testimonials conclusively prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives just the building-up effect so much desired; and it vitalizes and enriches the thin and impoverished blood.

A Narrow Escape.

Canton, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Superior Court Clerk Jordan and wife had a narrow escape last Tuesday. In attemping to cross the White and Keeter ford, on Shoal creek, their buggy and horse were washed down stream and lodged against the footlog, when Mrs. Jordan got out of the buggy and walked out of the creek on the footlog, although the waters were running.

over it. Mr. Jordan also attempted to walk the log, but being very weak he missed his focting and fell into five-foot water. For-tunately, he caught to the log and got out safely, but pretty wet. The horse finally, pulled the buggy across and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan went on their way, notwithstanding the buggy was more or less damaged.

MORE SNAKE THAN HE WANTED.

The More He Pulle, I Wore the Snake

Lengthened Out. Elberton, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Recently a citizen was riding along the road, and saw an object that attracted his attention. He alighted and drew near, and when he examined it he found it to be a snake, a real caochwhip. Not regarding snakes much, and finding it appeared • dormant, he concluded to feel it. So he took hold like a Turk. He pulled and it began to come out, and there was a snake in great profusion—at least in length; for it seemed that it was snake all the way. Had it bitten him, no turt would have accrued, for the snake was not as poisonous as the deadly nightshade, yet one does not like to be a target for a snake. What could he do? Do all he could, he was in contact with his serpentine majesty, and had to extricate himself in some way. He pulled it out, and it seemed to be dead, so he coiled it round and round on the leaves, and set them on fire to resuscitate the gentleman, but it remained either dead, dormant or sullen. So he set the leaves on the other side on fire, but with no better result. He went on his way and after awhile he came back. Looking about, he saw the reputile had not moved but it appeared to Elberton, Ga., March 11.-(Special.)-Re-Everybody would like to know something of the subjects which have been announced for chatka," which is to be given Tuesday, The Chicago Herald says:

Explorer George Kennan's lecture last night at Central Music hall was devoted to that portion of northeastern Siberia known as Kamtchatka. The lecturer pronounced it "Kam-chat-ka." It had been determined, through commercial necessity, to run a wire across Bering strait and down the Asiatic and American coasts. Upon this labor of exploration and construction Mr. Kennan had entered. The country proposed to be penetrated is blank to geographers, save a vague idea of the coast line. Of the interior practically nothidg had ever been heard. It was a vast territory locked by frost and without inducement. The Russian-American relegraph enterprise, however, gave the opportunity and justified the exploration. The speaker described the beginning of his three years' journeys in a sea voyage to the seaport village of Petropaviovsk, a town formed of little log houses, whose windows were made of fish skins. His first duty was to learn the language, and he related some amusing experiences illustrating that difficulty. "I want something to eat," was the first sentence he learned, and he convulsed the audience by repeating the sentence as he was turght it by the interpreter—a came back. Looking about, he saw the reptile had not moved, but it appeared to be dead. It was the most peculiar snake on record, and beat anything ever seen for stretching out.

thing to eat," was the first sentence he learned, and he convulsed the andience by repeating the sentence as he was taught it by the interpreter—a sentence of about forty compounded words, composed almost wholly of consonants. For two years Mr. Kennan struggled with the Russian language before he mastered it. He then sketched the trip northward to Behring straits, describing in a wonderful manner its vast solitudes and snow-covered steppes. The life and habits of the Koraks, the half-civilized momads of the country, formed a pleasing and interesting portion of the lecture. Mr. Kennan's power of description was well shown in his delineation of the scenery. His peroration, when he pictured the remarkable display of the aurora borealis, was eloquent. The audience was large and appreciative.

His subject was "An East Siberian Convict Mine."

Mr. Kennan, accompanied by G. A. Frost, of Boston, entered Siberia, going first to the mines of Kara, where all prisoners, sentenced to capital punishment and their sentence commanted by the czar to penal servitude for life, are sent. The ride to Kara was made under extreme personal discomfort, the temperature being from zero to 15 degrees below zero, and after a ride of 600 miles they arrayed at their destination almost frozen, tired and nearly sick. Then he describes the Karapenal establishment, and told under what difficulties the acquaintance was made of the "free command." Interesting types of political prisoners were presented, and to show the audience clearer how these cultured, intelligent, finely nurtured people dressed, Mr. Kennan put on clothes which he had brought from Siberia that had been worn by men he knew there, consisting of a fur cap, trousers of bagging, low shoes, gray coat, and fetters with two bands around the ankle connected with a chain. Reference was also made to the use of the whip, the hard work of convicts chained to wheelbarrows, the great mortality at the mines and the inhuman government rules.

Deens Its Doors Today at 10 O'clock—A Free Lunch for Everybody.

The Big Bonanza.

Its doors will be opened this morning at 10 o'clock by the Messrs. Potts & Potts.

It is a marvel of beauty surpassing in elegance and appointment anything of its character ever seen in this country. The fixtures alone have cost considerably over ten thousand dollars. Everybody who appreciates a good drink knows where it is—near the corner of Decatur and Peachtree streets. In fact it has two openings, one on Decatur street and the other on Peachtree.

The fixtures were made throughout by the Beutell Mannfacturing Company, of this city, and this fact alone insures the public that they are of the finest and best to be had. The Beutell company are specialist, and do, perhaps, the finest work of any concern in the southern states. Being of such a high order, they received the order for the work from Messrs. Potts & Potts in competition with the biggest manufacturers in the United States. Yes, the barroom is a dalsy, and if you do not believe it go around this morning and see for yourself.

The bar will open promptly at 10 o'clock this morning. From 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. a free lunch of turkey, tongue, salads, etc., will be served.

Everybody is cordially invited.

JOHN LUBBOCK. With 53 illustrations.

12mo. Cloth $1.00.

"The Modern Science Series" is designed primarily for the educated layman who needs to know the present state and result of scientific investigation, and who has neither time nor inclination to become a specialist on the subject which arouses his interest. Each book will be complete in itself, and, while thoroughly scientific in treatment, its subject will, as far as possible, be presented in language divested of needless technicalities. Illustrations will be given wherever needed by the text.

Godkin as a Fraud.

Larry Godkin, of The Evening Post, is well nigh as intrepid a bungler as the Awful Liar that edits The New York Times. Godkin prints in full the remarks made by Mr. Hewitt at the meeting of the chamber of commerce held to honor the memory of John Jay Knox; and he prefaces these remarks with a statement that Mr. Hewitt "effectually disposed of the charge, as frequently made, that the coinage act, of which Mr. Knox was the author, was passed through congress surreptitiously."

Here, then, was a piece of information of singular interest and importancea piece of information that would give the lie to John Sherman and other republican statesmen. But the information did not come up to the announcement. There is not a word in Mr. Hewitt's speech going to show that the act of demonetiza tion was not passed surreptitiously-that it was not voted for under a misapprehension as to its real purpose.

All that Mr. Hewitt says on that subject is to declare that Knox was the saithor of the act. He drafted the original bill, and Mr. Hewist more than hints that Knox furnished "many eminent gentlemen in congress" the arguments which they employed to conceal the real purpose of the act of demonetization. Godkin is a great fraud.

Our Neglected History. Professor Alderman, the recently elected president of the North Carolina Normal and Industrial college, has succeeded in interesting the press and the people of his state in certain historical researches and collections which cannot fail to be of great benefit to their commonwealth. Professor Alderman mays that the North Carolinians have played the part of men in the making of history, but the telling of the story they have left to unsympathetic and alien pens. This is more or less true of the people of every southern state. As the professor says, the want of towns and other proper buildings caused our early records to be scattered. The stern and unusual struggle for statehood belittled and erushed the preservative spirit common to all men. The printing press touched only a few southern localities as late as the middle of the last century. We had organized governments and great leaders in war and peace for generations before any general interest was felt in our history. Then, from time to time, able writers attempted to collect the necessary mate rial, but much of their work is fragmentary or inaccurate.

Now, in this age of special studies. there are many reasons why we should take up the study of town, county and state history. In this way we can progress from the particular to the general. Each community bears some relation to other communities, and historically to the whole world past and present. The study of our local history will preserve the names and deeds of our great men. make our institutions understood, and vindicate us from the slanders of out

We need county historical societies, and our colleges should encourage bright students to go to work in this interesting field, and write and publish monographs It will instruct both young and old to trace our early systems of taxation, the political and economic influences of the plantation as compared with the New England town, our early land tenure public roads and railroads, trade and commerce, currency and subtreasury ideas, manufactures, postal system, the growth of towns, public schools, religion, race elements, old furniture and architecture, penal and charitable institutions civil policy, early governors and states immigration and emigration, men. states in war, etc. The professor, whose suggestions we have condensed in a hur ried fashion, concludes as follows:

When the facts are all in and the evidence there will arise a man or set of men with the large mental endowment, the sense of just perspective, the calm dispassionate strength born of accuracy, the embodying historic imfrom the unhewn stone. We will all be better for the knowledge. Mere sensitiv and provincialism and boasting will van-Just and well-grounded state pride will

It is plain enough that all this will help us abroad. The statesmen, writers and capitalists of Europe, when they seek information concerning southern subjects, find very little in print, and most of it is the work of northern writers. The result is that Europe still regards the south as a turbulent, epidemic-smitten region, wavering between yellow fever and black insurrections, and nouprogressive, both intellectually and industrially. Thus we are described in the last Britannica. Is it not about time for our ablest pens to bring out the truth of history?

The editor of The Evening Post will have to bustle if he proposes to compete with the gifted being who has dedicated The New York Times to political lying. We have already referred to a few of the feats of The Times, but the list is forty-eight members present, thirty-eight preferring Cleveland. As a matter of fact there were thirtyfive members of the committee present

Twenty-one were for Hill and fourteen were opposed to him.

The Times is an awful liar. Press the Silver Issue,

Mr. William P. St. John, the president of the Mercantile bank, of New York, began the investigation of the silver question in order to be able to convince others that the Bland-Allison act of 1878 was "dishonest in its inception and vicious in its tendencies." He was a monometallist: he believed in the efficacy of the single gold standard. He did not find the facts to fit his theories, but even as late as 1888, he declares, "the proposal to afford equal access to the United States mints for gold and silver on our present money standard" would have been shunned by him "as heinously offensive."

Yet the painstaking investigation has compelled him, in spite of the pride of preconceived opinion, to come to the conclusion that the remonetization of silver and its restoration to our currency is demanded by sound policy as well as the best interests of the people. Mr. St. John is a banker; he has no interests in silver or silver mines; he abhors "dishonest dollars;" and yet he carnestly commends the enactment of the measure for the remonetization of silver new before the house.

The people are disposed to believe that all bankers are opposed to the remonetization of silver, but Mr. St. John shows that this is not the case. His own case would be sufficient, but he says that every proposition of the remonetization measure now before the house was submitted at the convention of the American Bankers' Association last November. In fulfillment of his engagement with an eminent New York banker, Mr. St. John personally prevented the introduction of a resolution commending the passage of the remonetization bill. He declares that he stands ready to furnish "satisfactory evidence that a motion to recommend the measure to congress for enactment would have carried that convention of three hundred bankers overwhelmingly. Our readers will gather from this that it is not the real business men of the north and east, who are opposed to the remonetization of silver, but only the money sharks who have British connections, and speculators who profit by the situation. The real business men of the country know that they can get no substantial profits out of a system which permits British bankers to measure the price of American cotton and wheat by the price of depreciated and depreciating

Let the democrats in congress press the silver issue.

Where Will This End?

The announcement that James Berry, of London, the English public executioner, has resigned his position to go on the lecture platform is not very surprising, when we look into the matter

It is true that Berry has strangled over 200 persons, and such a record, although justified by his official position, naturally causes people to regard him with horror, but it is nevertheless a fact that men of his notoriety attract the public. Berry is fully aware of this, and he goes into the lecture field certain of large audiences and big profits. People will go to hear him, not because they care much about his lecture, but because they want to look at a man who has choked to death 200 of his fellow men.

The London hangman is only following other examples. The Bidwell brothers, now that they have regained their liberty, propose to make the most of their noto riety as the successful forgers, who made $2,500,000 out of the Bank of England. by writing a play and acting it. Pretty women who become fnfamous in sensational divorce cases become theatrical stars. Men and women who have made themselves very conspicuous in anything except literature are sought after by the magazines, and paid good prices for their articles, written in many cases for them by hack writers.

In view of these facts, Berry is the very man for the lecture platform, and for the magazines, too. So long as the people have this craze for the notorious and conspicuous, there is very little room left on the stage, the rostrum and in the magazines for modest and respectable merit. Where will all this end? Perhaps it will result in the forced retirement of genuine actors, lecturers and writers, and the substitution of freaks, celebrities and criminals.

This deplorable state of affairs is the result of too aggressive or speculative methods in art and literature. These things do not go well together. In the world's history the greatest artists have made very little money out of their work. They lived for something better than riches. But in this commercial age men try to act, speak and write for revenue only, and a sad mess they make of it. Short weight, sand in the sugar and wooden nutmegs-these results of greed in commerce substantially appear in a slightly different shape in the world of art. It is a serious business. With the Bidwells, Berrys and others of the same kidney on deck, genume merit will hesitate before showing itself in public in such bad company. A revival of the morals and manners of a generation ago would be a blessed reform just now.

Old man Blair proposes to run for the presidential nomination. If he can't get that, he will probably go into the patent medicine business.

The attempt of The Charleston News and Courer to restore harmony to the demo-cratic party in South Carolina by placing the minority in control of the majority will be an extraordinary performance if it should be successful.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Raleigh State Chronicle says that at the world's fair it will be successfully shown that John Cill, of New Bern, was the original inventor of what is known as "Colt's revolver."GiH was robbed of this invention by Colt, of Connecticut, who happened to meet him in Washington. He owned the original gun of Gill's makein1829 and lost it on the fall of New Bern during the war. Gill also vul-canized india rubber and laid slate with it on the old fall in New Bern before Goodyear dreamed of it. He was an Edison. ### ETCHED AND SKETCHED.

Mr. Anton L. Kontz has returned from his tour through Cuba, and talks interestingly about the scenes and the customs of the beautiful island just to the south of us.

Mr. Kontz was talking yesterday to a circle of his friends to whom he had just passed around some rich and fragrant "Havannahs," and it is easy to be assured that the incidents of his stay of two weeks on the island were thrilling, as teld by himself. In the first place, Mr. Kontz knows that a good story is, and in the second place he in tell one as aptly as any man in Atlanta.

"You may talk about your beautiful valleys,"
Mr. Kontz resumed, after catching his breath,

GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

It is rumored that Hon. Spencer R. Atkinso will soon tender his resignation as judge of the Brunswick circuit, so as to be in a position to actively enter the contest for the congressional nomination in the eleventh district. This rumor which seems to be pretty well founded, has cre ated some excitement in the political ranks. It is aid that it is probable Judge Atkinson will ente the political ranks. It is the convention with a larger following than either of his opponents. Brunswick has "gone wild" over his candidacy, and throughout the district great enthusiasm is manifested in the congressional race. A lively campaign is therefore antic ipated. In the event of the judge's resignation Solicitor General Brantley will be a candidate fo the judgeship, and J. J. Carter, of Baxley, Mr. Brantley's predecessor, will be in the race for solicitor general.

The democrats of Milton county will have a big mass meeting at an early date. There is great enthusiasm among them.

Says The Rome Hustler: If Judson Clements is not appointed on the interstate commission his thousands of friends in this congressional district will urgethim for a seat in the next congress. untain colt was never outrun when he entered the race.

The Albany News and Advertiser says an effort s being made in certain parts of the second con gressional district to prejudice alliancemen against all candidates for congressional honors whose names were presented to the Cuthbert con-vention and failed of endorsement. It is being gainst all candidates for contended by many that if any man was voted for at that convention and failed to receive the endorsement of that convention he is in-honor boun to retire from the race and support, the man who was endorsed. Hon, C. B. Wooten's name was mentioned in that convention and he was voted for as the choice of some of the delegates present, but it was not by his solicitation, and nothing whatever of it until told of it after the convention had adjourned. The Bainbridge Dem ocrat, in commenting upon the action of that con

Replying to The Democrat, The News and Admenying to the Democrat, the News and Ad-rectiser gets on its mettle and hotly says:

"Colonel Wooten had nothing to do with that convention. Not being a member of the alliance, he did not have the presumption to go before it or to attempt to have anything whatever to do with it. He never meddled with its affairs in the least. But there is one question arising out of this that is being badly perverted. If Mr. Stevens, who was endorsed by the Cuthbert convention, runs on the cuttous that was endorsed by the Cuthort convention, runs on the platform that has been announced by the del-egates who were present, no democrat is debarred from entering the race. And right here we would like to ask—Who has the authority to say that a democrat, it matters not who he is, cannot run in democratic primaries for an office to which he aspires? Mr. Stevens was put forward by one class of citizens and asked to run in the demo-cratic primaries, subject to the nominating con-cratic primaries, subject to the nominating conclass of citizens and asked to run in the democratic primaries, subject to the nominating convention. Does that exclude all other democratic candidates? If it does, a wonderful change has come over democratic custons. If a man whose record as a public servant and as a democrat is to have the democratic door shut against him simply because his name was mentioned in a secret caucus by a party of self-constituted dictators, it is time the democrats of the country were put on notice in order that they may know by what rules they are to be governed. Colonel Wooten has never been read out of the democratic party and has just as much right to run for office at the hands of the democratic party as any man in the party, and if any man says that he has not, it is a willful misrepresentation and carries its falsity on its face."

JOURNALISM IN GEORGIA.

Journalism in Georgia has changed materially in half a century. There is before me a copy of The Southern Whig, published in Athens, Ga., in 1840, by Benjamin P. Poore, later well known as Major Ben Perley Poore.

It is a seven-column paper, having for its motto the declaration of Jefferson: "Where powers are assumed which have not been delegated, a nullification of the act is the rightful remedy." 'Issued every Friday, its terms were $3 per annum, or $4 if not paid within six months.

The first page contains the conclusion of an address delivered before the societies of Franklin college, by the Rt. Rev. John England, DD., bishop of Charleston, whose eloquence has not lost its charm with the flight of time. His prophecy concerning the Empire State has been fulfilled. Some of the Queer Notions of Ladies in the City.

To have a stuffed peacock in the house is a sure harbinger of evil. This becomes so widely believed that the number of these birds in this city is rapidly increasing. It's a good thing for the fowls:

The left hind foot of a Georgia "Brer Rabbit" carried in the purse is a sure way to come quickly to the road to wealth. More efficiency is, of course, given to this charm if the rabbit is a "graveyard jack."

Not long ago I was sitting in the pretty little reception room of one our coming belies when she called my attention to a photo of a young man. It was framed in a gilded horseshoe and tied with a green ribbon on which was written in gilt letters, "February 27, 1891. Better luck next time." She says that tree in ribbon is a sure cure for an attack of jealousy and that the photo of a lost lover in a horseshoe is a good reminder of how fickle men are.

FROM OUR NOTEBOOKS.

The Fires Yesterday.-There were two fires yesterday. The first wis a negro cabin on Man-gum street, the roof of which was slightly burned. The second brought out the department by telephone at 1:30 o'clock, and was the burning of a Chinese laundry near the corner of Wheat and Butler streets. The losses in both instance Judge Hill It Was .- Councilman "Billy" Hill was Judge Hill yesterday. He acted at the afternoon session as recorder in place of Judge Andy Calhoun, who is out of the city. The session passed off with notable ease, and the councilman proved himself a veteran. Every one who was present—and a big crowd attended—was of the opinion that he "got there" in excellent shape. He may have occasion to act again today.

"Uncle" Ben Williford Very Low.-"Uncle" Ben Williford, whom everybody in Atlanta knows, is in a very critical condition at his home, at 13 McAfee street. All hopes of his recovery have practically been abandoned. His age made the attack severer than it would otherwise have been, Mr. Williford's numerous friends in the city are very anxious about him and he has had many calls, particularly from the pioneers.

Two Burglars Arrested .- Ed Glover and Tom Mosely, two notorious negroes, who have been wanted for some time by the police, were run in by Detectives Bedford and Looney yesterday after-noon. A box of cigars and other goods were re-covered from the darkies. They are thought to have been concerned in a number of burglaries recently, and the matter will be thoroughly investi-gated today. One case has already been fixed Nearly Killed an Officer.-Arthur Tolbert, a young mulatto, was arrested by Patrolman Jordan last night. Tolbert is wanted in Chattanooga for assault with intent to murder. Several weeks ago he assaulted a policeman in that city and su ceeded in nearly killing him. He then escaped and since then a vigorous effort has been made to find him. The Chattanooga authorities will be communicated with this morning.

Lyceum Debating Club.-The best debater in the Boys' High school have organized a Ly-eum Debating Club. The officers are: President, E. P. Wood; vice president, Sam C. Dean; secretary, Frank K. Boland. The boys are now ready for any challenges to debate with any othe society in the city.

Changed the Pay Day.—The employes of the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company, who were formerly paid weekly, are now paid monthly. The change was made a few days ago

The New Mayor.—Mayor-Elect S. S. King, of Rome, is spending a few days in the city. He is receiving the congratulations of his friends on his successful race.

Show Up, or Shut Up!

We are sorry to learn that Hou, W. L. Peek, of this county, president and general manager of the alliance exchange of Georgia, has declared himself an advocate of the third, or St. Louis, party. self an advocate of the third, or St. Louis, party. We would like to know, and the voters of Rock-dale would like to know, whether Colonel Peek, whom the democrats have so honored in the past, endorses the entire St. Louis platform. Is he like Ellington and Branch, wishing the color line wiped out? If so, he should declare himself, so that his constituents could know what they are doing when they are supporting him.

when they are supporting him.

As for us we expect to stay in the old demo-cratic ship, and we believe she will land safely into port, but, should she go down, we will be one of the last on deck. Two years ago, Colonel Peek said "we are all democrats;" now he says 75 per cent of us are not democrats. Whence the change Has not the party done what it could since that time to remedy the evils of bad government? The change, is the work of demogogues anything the grand old done. Let the honorable show, if he can, where the party has failed to do what it could for the good of the people in the columns gratis. But we refuse to believe that any such change has come over the youmanry of this state as Colo-nel Peek would have us believe. No amount of malignity towards the old party and promises for the new could so blind thinking men as to the consequences now threatening us. No, democracy is yet all right in Georgia. Here's for democracy

Don't Mention It!

From The Marietta, Ga., Journal. Titles, big sounding titles, are very common these days. They are nauseating, and not at all as complimentary as one might imagine. Nearly every lawyer is called colonel. Why should he be? Where does the practice of law give the military title of colonel to a lawyer who never was on the field of Mars; not even drilled with the raw militia? Then take that other misleading title, professor. Every medicine vender, soap or salve peddler, or dancing master, is soap or saive peddler, or dancing master, is called professor. Just as well dub every "mule driver" an M.D. Titles ought to mean something and not dished out as we do alms-giving—to every beggar that comes along. Let us have a few more honorable, truth-telling titles, like plain mister. Call a spade a spade, and call a lawyer Mr., just as you would Mr. a merchant. This flippant style of conferring colonel on people, who have never earned it, is a public counterfeit.

MOORE.-The death of Mr. J.'S. Moore removes from the field of journalism one of the ablest writers upon free trade. Mr. Moore was wider known by his nom de plume of "The Parsee Merchant," than by his real name. He was re-ported to have been the main reliance of Mor-rison and Mills when they draughted the tariff measures which were known by their names in democratic congresses.

BOIES .- Horace Boies is just now living in the fierce light that beat upon a presidential possi-bility. Here are some of his points, as taken down by a New York World interviewer: He shaves himself, and he doesn't care much about wearing a dress suit. He doesn't play cards and couldn't make two counts at billiards or pool. He doesn't care for baseball, would be mystified by the performance of a Kingeley mystified by the performance of a Princeton eleven, and he never handled a tennis racket in his life. He doesn't swear. He doesn't use toto or rum; but he says if other people do it doesn't hurt them, he hasn't any objection. He can appreciate a joke, but he an adept at making one or telling stories.

GOULD .- Rev. Dr. Paxton thinks be was right in accepting Jay Gould's gift to his church, says Gould leads a lovely home life, concerning his wealth, the doctor says most wealthy men, if weighed in the ba with Gould, would size up about the same.

What Atlanta's Real Estate Men Are Doing.

ALIEN CAPITAL BUYING UP OUR DIRT.

When All Else Grows Valueless, Atlanta Real Estate Will Hold Its Own-Some Sales Yesterday-Business.

The real estate men of Atlanta are by no means on the loaf nowadays. Their business is, on the contrary, looking up-looking up right lively.

In yesterday's Constitution was given a full account of the plan of work agreed upon by the agents, who have combined to form the Atlanta real estate board.

The purposes of the board are to be commended by all business men, and especially will they be endorsed by the owners of Atlanta real estate who may at any time desire lanta real estate who may at any time desire to sell.

A room in the Chamber of Commerce building will be engaged in the very near future, and large blackboards will be put up around the hall upon which property for sale will be "listed" by all the agents every day.

If an agent has property to sell he may, according to the by-laws of the board, "list it" at the headquarters, and opposite it put the price wanted.

the headquarters, and opposite it put the price wanted.

Then any or all agents noticing it "listed" can sell it if they can, they getting half the commission if they do sell it, and the agent "listing" it get the other half. In this way property can be sold more quickly and more wisely than at present.

This is a very happy idea for the real estate agents of Atlanta to act upon, and they have by forming this board aided themselves and benefited every real estate owner in Atlanta. The interest in the board should certainly be kept up.

The Owners of Atlanta Dirt.

"How many capitalists and men of only moderate means, too, as to that, do you sup-pose have just by passing through Atlanta and looking around, bought land here as an in-vestment?"

The inquirer was a prominent real estate

The inquirer was a prominent real estate man, and as he spoke he wound a tape land-measur eabout his finger thoughtfully.

"Hard to tell, maybe!"

"Weil, rather. I wish I could show you their names and where they live. A list of them would be good reading.

"There are men in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, St. Louis—and nobody knows where all—who have put their money in Atlanta real estate, and are holding it just as an investment. Many of them are selling every day, of course, owing to the influx of population and the increase of value, but many more are buying every day."

The truth is that Atlanta dirt is like gold money, in that it never loses it value. There money, in that it never loses it value. There is no better paying investment in the southern states, busines men all agree, than Atlanta line have sent on their buyers to the eastern markets.

They are buying their stocks more cautiously this year than last, and by prudently steering clear of extravagant methods, are going to have just as attractive a line of goods as ever before, and will come out with safer results in the fall than they foolishly risked last year at this time.

The merchants of Atlanta expect to do a safe business this year, both in wholesale and retail lines.

A RECEIVER WANTED.

One s Applied Ifor by the New York Creditors of the "Dresden,"

The New York creditors of Mr. Louis A. Mueller, the proprietor of the "Dres-den." want a receiver appointed to take charge of his assets.

A bill for receiver was filed before Judge Marshall J. Clarke yesterday by Mayson & Hill, the well-known lawyers. The creditors filing the bill are all from New York. Bawo, Dotter & Co., are the largest creditors of the "Dresden."

The creditors asking for a receiver represent only about $1,000 of the indebtedness ness.

The petitioners allege that the mortgage to Mrs. Josephine Mueller is suspicious, to say the least, and designed to delay and hinder the creditors from collecting what is due them.

Judge Clarke set Saturday, March 19th to hear the bill.

ATLANTA OPENS THE SEASON AT MACON

But Will Have Memorial Day and Fourth of July at Home-The Schedule a Good One.

Director Charley Hart got back from the league meeting at Birmingham yesterday, and Assistant Secretary W. M. Goldsmith came with him.

Both are more enthusiastic than ever over league prospects, and they say they caught their enthusiasm from the delegates representing the other cities, who all agree that baseball is all the talk through the

It certainly is here in Atlanta. "It was a highly successful and thor-oughly harmonious meeting," said Mr. Hart, last evening. "The new cities are even more enthusiastic, if that be possible, than those that went in at the beginning, and, by the 1st of April, the teams will doubtless be hard at work, practicing for the coming contests. The schedule gave satisfaction all around, and the delegates went back to their homes satisfied that baseball is on a firmer footing in the south than it has ever been before.'

The Schedule. Mr. Hart was on the schedule committee with President Genslinger and Ted Sulli-with President Genslinger and Ted Sullivan.

"Sullivan and I," he said, in talking of the work, "were at it from 7 o'clock in the evening until 3 o'clock this morning. We started out to make a schedule, which would, as nearly as possible, meet everybody's approval, and we succeeded, even beyond our expectations. We have fixed the jumps so as to do away, as well as possible, with long railroad trips. Of course, I would have liked to have the Atlanta club open the season here at home. course, I would have liked to have the Atlanta club open the season here at home, but gave that up in order to secure Memorial Day and the Fourth of July. We will have two games here on each of these days. We open the season in Macon, and the old-time rivalry between the two cities is sure to insure big crowds there, and on the 25th and 26th, when Macon comes up here. Yes, everybody seemed well satisfied."

The schedule shows that Atlanta opens in Macon April 14th, 15th and 16th; then goes to Birmingham April 18th, 19th and 20th; then Chattanooga the 21st,22d and 23d; then to Atlanta fer April 25th and 26th, two games. The club will remain at home until May 20th, playing in that time all the clubs of the league.

The New Cities.

"Ted Sullivan is at the head of the Chattanooga club, and says he has everything in excellent shepe." said Mr. Hart in discussing the new cases. Nashville made an offer, but it wasn't nearly as good as Chattanooga's. Then Sullivan is backed by the Spafildings, which is all we need as a guarantee. Birmingham is red-hot for ball, and has a good organization with $4,000 in the club treasury to give it the right sort of stability. Montgomery, too, is very much stirred up on the subject, has its grounds under way, and has closed. I understand, with a manager, who is to bring a club with him. The fact is it looks very much as if the question of stability, which used to bother the Southern League, doesn't figure in it at all this year. The eight-hundred-dollar limit and the geographical compactness of the league seem to have been the two essentials needed to success."

eeded to success. The Contracts Protected. The Southern League has protection under the National agreement.

That means that the other leagues must hold contracts and reserves inviolate, and if they want Southern serves inviolate, and if they want Southern League players they must pay for them.

Under the national agreement, the minor leagues are divided into two classes, A and B. It was determined to go in under one of these classes, but which one was not definitely settled. That was left for the secretary of the league to decide. A telegram was, however, sent to President Young, of the National League, giving notice of this decision, and from the receipt of that telegram the desired protection is given the Southern League.

The Work on the Grounds. The Work on the Grounds.

The work of grading and fencing the new grounds is being pushed forward rapidly. The plans of the new grand stand show that it will be the finest thing of the kind in the south—probably the finest of its size in the country. In addition to the regular seats, as in the old grand stand, there will be eight or ten private boxes. This may not be finished in time for the exhibition games between the National League clubs, but will be completed in ample time for the league season.

A MISSING BOY.

Whom His Father at Conyers Is Uneasy About and Wants to Find.

J. G. Bell, of Conyers, Ga., wants his sixteen-year-old son, L. L. Bell. The boy left home nearly a week ago, and, since then, nothing has been beard of him. No cause can be given for his disappearance, though it is thought that young Bell ran away from home.

Yesterday a communication was received at police headquarters asking that the local authorities assist Mr. Bell in finding his son. He is a prominent merchant in Conyers, and the boy has always had a splendid home. had a splendid home.

It seems to be another case of lurid literature and its effects.

A LITTLE GIRL.

Her Mysterious Disappearance Is Perplexing a Number of People.

Daisy Herndon, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. George Herndon, is missing from her home near the Atlanta university, and her family and friends are greatly alarmed about her.

The child has been living with her parents on the road at the continuation of Mitchell street, just beyond the university. The place is just outside of the city dimits and the neighborhood is rather sparsely settled. Yesterday morning the little girl was at play in front of her home and that is the last seen of her by her family.

Failing to turn up during the day, a vigorous search was made for the child, but no clue whatever could be gotten as to her whereabouts. Last night the father called at police headquarters and asked the assis ance of the department in solving the mysterious disappearance.

The little one is described as being dark complected, with dark eyes and hair. No reason at all for her strange absence can be given, and the gravest fears are entertained.

Trouble. Trouble.

Joe Walker, a young negro, paid a heavy penalty for resisting arrest last night.

Patrolman Jeff Wright found him on Edgewood avenue drunk, and took him in charge. The negro turned savagely on the officer and was fighting desperately, when a blow from Wright's club felled him and ceased the encounter.

Wælker's head was badly gashed by the lick, and blood flowed in streams from the wound. He was brought to police headquarters in a wrecked condition, his clothes and face showing the effects of the blow. It was a severe lick, but administered entirely in self-defense.

A BIG SUCCESS

Was the Athletic Exhibition Given at the Y. M. C. A. "Gym" Last Night.

Y. M. C. A. "Gym" Last Night.

A large crowd was at the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium last night to see the class exhibition. Director Ed Drake had charge of the performance, assisted Captain Spain.

Mr. Drake is a fine athlete, and he made himself so right in the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium. When he went in there three or four years ago, he was no better than thousands of boys who would never think they could be anything in this line. But he has done hard work, and is probably the best all-round athlete in Atlanta.

in Atlanta.

Be it said to his credit that the exhibition in the last night was the best ever given in the "gym." Such was the opinion of those who have seen them all. His discipline is much better than that of any former direc-tor, and his work has more snap and

vim. The programme last night was carried out without a hitch or any long waits. The following is the programme in full:

1. Dung-tell drill;
2. Apparatus work;
3. Sparring,
4. Parallel bars;
5. High jump from floor;
6 High kicking;
7. Club swinging;
8. Aercbatic work;
9. Bar work;
10. High jump from board;
11. Tumbling from board;
12. Jumping the bag;
13. Pyramids;
14. Tumbling.

All of the events were good, but some of them deserve especial mention.

them deserve especial mention.

Mr. Randall Weems and Mr. Drake did

Mr. Randall Weems and Mr. Drake did some excellent work on the parallel bars. Three years ago Mr. Weems went into the gymnasium, a delicate, slight little fellow, whose lungs were believed to be affected; the contrasting picture made by his splendid physique today speaks volumes for the system of exercise.

The high jumping was very fine, and after a hard contest Mr. Earnest Wilkinson and Mr. Grant Leet tied on a jumn of five feet six inches. This was from the floor.

The event of the evening was the acrobatic work of Messrs. Clyde Haynes, Charles Beardsley and Ed Drake. Mr. Beardsley is one of the most splendidly muscled men in Atlanta, and did the heavy work. The three men wore pink and blue tights, and their work was as good as that of any professionals seen here in a long time.

The audience was surprised and delighted to see the old favorite Troup Howard back. Troup is one of the oldest and best athletes in the state. Some one remarked that he had been on a farm and was out of practice, but he did the giant swing with his old-time grace and ease.

The work ended up with some pyramids and tumbling that was very fine. Everybody came away pleased and praising Mr. Drake.

After the election of officers for the ensuing three months and the regular order of business was transacted, the members adjourned to the spacious dining hall, where the handsomely decorated tables, laden with the most delicious viands, fully sustained the reputation of hospitality so long enjoyed by the host. ### GRADY CAN'T COME.

Business Engagements Prevent His Accepting the Invitation

EXTENDED BY THE IRISH SOCIETIES.

There Will Be No Change in the St. Patrick's Day Programme Published Yesterday.

Ex-Senator Tom Grady, the brilliant young Irishman, of New York, finds it impossible for him to accept the invitation extended him by the Hibernians and other Irish societies, to be their guest on St. Patrick's Day.

Mr. Grady finds that business engagements make it impossible for him to be absent from New York on that day. A telegram to Mr. John F. Gatins, Jr., chairman of the committee on invitations onveys his regrets:

New York, March 11, 1892.—To John F. Gatins,

New York, March 11, 1892.—To John F. Gatms, for the Hibernians, Atlanta, Ga.: Have tried in every way since receipt of your most kind letter to secure release from home engagement so as to accept invitation, but have not been able to do so. Definitely decided today that I cannot leave here next week. Will write you tomorrow.

THOMAS F. GRADY.

This news will be received with regret by the admirers of Mr. Grady. and by citizens generally. While Mr. Grady was not billed for a speech, had he come the admirers of the eloquent young Irishman would certainly have insisted upon hearing from him. His failure to come does not, however, necessitate any change in the programme, which will be carried out as printed in yesterday's Constitution.

HE MEASURED THE GALLOWS.

Sheriff Camp Preparing for the Execution of Walter Cook.

Sheriff Camp, of Camppell county, was in Atlanta on a ghastly mission yesterday. He came to the city for no other purpose than to get a pattern of the gallows which broke the necks of George Washington and Charley Ozburn.

He yisited the jail and took the exact measurements of the different pieces of timber used in the construction of the death trap.

timber used in the construction of the death trap.

Sheriff Camp is going to build one the exact counterpart of it, in Fairburn, for the execution of Walter Cook.

Cook is the young negro who killed Andrew Kiser in that county last fall. He will be hanged on April 1st.

Cook spent several months in the Atlanta jail, and had the unpleasant experience of seeing the gallows which has done service at two hangings, but he had little idea that it would ever be used as a pattern for a gallows upon which he would be hung.

Local land deals and syndicates are getting in shape Local land deals and syndicates are getting in snape for operations shortly and traders expect great setiv-ity. This is reasonable, because the business is safe and profitable, and as the population of Atlanta grows prices enhance, and the number of traders increases from year to year.

Because of the uncertainty in railroad investments it is expected that a large amount of money usually placed in them will this year go into realty and the shares of land companies already-organized.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The passage of the bill in the New Jersey legislature to legalize the compact between the coal companies, became the cause of a new movement among those stocks, and activity was resewed and the market mounted quite in the old style. The opening of the general market was at lower figures, and St. Paul was down \( \frac{1}{16} \) per cent at 77, but rulled quickly \( \frac{1}{16} \) per cent and afterwards reached even better prices. The rest of the market soon developed strength, though it was not until noon that the strength, though it was not until noon that the meaning of the act of the Jersey legislature was seen, and then there was a scramble for Cealers. Reading and then taker was a seriable for coalers. Reading rose to 59, Lackawanna to 163, Jersey Central to 143%, and Delaware and Hudson to 141%. There were rumors later of negotiations between the Sugar trust and other outside reflereies, and these created a demand for that stock which sent common up to 93% and preferred up to 97%, while Distillers kept pace for some time with an uward movement. The expirement some time, with an upward movement. The excitement died out of Coalers towards 2 o'clock p. m., and the realization of sales on the advance sagged prices off a little for some time, but favorable developments in and and West Point made the securities of the Richmond and West Foint made the securities of that road the feature in the last few minutes of trading, and the whole market was stiffened up again, the close being active and firm to strong at or near the best prices of the day. The final changes are in almost all cases advances, and important ones comprise Jersey Central 5½ per cent, Reading 4, Delaware and Hulson 2%, Sugar 2½, Lackawanna 2¼, Distillers 1½ and Lake Shore 13½ per cent. J. S. Bache & Co.'s Stock Letter.

By Private Wire to A. P. Youngblood. NEW YORK, March 11.—At the opening the interest was centered in St. Paul, and although the price opened lower on account of the passing off the dividend there was very little long stock for sale. The acdend there was very little long stock for sale. The action by the directors was deemed as conservative and business-like, but the street was somewhat disappointed that no statement was issued; still, from an approximate one while we have seen, the road has earned about 4 per cent for the past six months and it ought to earn at least 6 per cent for the year. St. Paul was, after the opening, rather neglected, and it will probably remain so for a few days yet. The passage of a bill in the New Jersey legislature friendly to the Coal combination created a bouyant feeling in all the Coalers especially when it became known that the bill had already passed the senate. It is now in the hands of the governor and will probably soon receive his sancthe governor and will probably soon receive his sanc-tion. There has been a great pressure brought in New Jersey to pass the bill as it will increase the wages of Jersey to pass the only as it will increase the wages of the workingmen. Reading closes with a large ad-vance of 4 per cent and though it will be subject to wide fluctuations it will ultimately sell higher. New England stock was neglected, but its time will also come. A few buying orders appeared in December flutures and as there was little or no stock for sale it. futures and as there was little or no stock for sale it was an easy matter to advance it. Tennessee Coal and Iron was influenced adversely on account of the report that at the meetings which are being held daily some of the interests are dissatisfied with the percentages offered them. The Sloss Company especially is said to be the biggest kicker. The general market closes strong and looks as if the rise would continue tomorrow.

ivate wire to A. P. Youngblood. NEW YORK, March 11. Liverpool showed a further improvement of about 2-64d this morning which had no influence, however, upon our opening, which advanced about 4.65 points over the first trades and remained steady for some time. The interior movement, although expected to be free as it came in, had a supervised in the control of the cont somewhat unfavorable bearing, and induced some sell-ing. There was a constant effort to hammer the market by the bears which, however, would not have been of any effect had it not been for the fact that a local trader, who, during the previous day bought a very considerable line of cotton, suddenly the same sold out within 20 minutes of the close this evening. We estimate the quantity at between 6,000 and 8,000 bales and this caused the late decline of 200 points. There was nothing of any chargeder to the 2@3 points. There was nothing of any character to the trading today, which has grown quite small under the market to add to their holdings. The receipts at the terior will be about 25,000 bales with an actual movement probably equal to last year. Whatever the re-ceipts may be next week will tend to influence prices. Large or small from day to day will make slightly lower or higher prices. In the end we, however, must look to the coming crop for a real bearing upon values. Mubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, March 11,-The Liverpool market wa 1-64d higher by noon today, and by the close had gained another point. This was hardly regarded as indicatanother point. This was hardly regarded as indicating the degree of strongth that had been hoped for in the foreign market, but at the same time it did not prove sufficiently discouraging to depress prices here and the apening showed a slight appreciation on the figures of yesterday evening. During the day, in the absence of any new elements of depression, the market gradually improved, and by I o'clock August had sold at 7.10, or 10 points above the extreme figures of day before vesterday. At this price the advance was at 7.10, or 19 points above the extreme figures of day before yesterday. At this price the advance was checked by fresh selling on the part of the shorts, wh had failed to recover the large line of cotton put out with a view of breaking the market to 7c for August, and whose attack of today seemed to have the purpose of again forcing prices past that figure, which is fast becoming, so to speak, the goal of both parties to the speculation. The bears believe that, forced past 7c for August, another drop of lea pound will be speedly recorded, reflecting a condition of absonut despair amongst holders of cettor. The bulls, on the other hand, seem to be inclined to increase their holdings almost indefinitely upon the basis of that figure, which, almost indefinitely upon the basis of that figure, which, until day before vesterday, had not been recorded for August contracts in the previous record for cotton August contracts in the previous record for cotton speculation. The receipts at the ports for today hardly promise to exceed 13,000 bales, against 17,800 last week and 19,000 last year. The total port movement for the week will probably be 2,000 bales, which is 2,000 smaller than the smallest estimate previous y made, and 20,000 to 25,000 under estimates current earlier in the week. The interior movement promises to be 3,000 bales. The interior movement promises to be 25,000 bales against 30,000 last week, and 22,000 last year. It is significant that these figures continue to show a decrease, and it seems safe to assume that the period of increasing supplies is past. Nuch discussion seems to have been provoked with regard to the fertilizer me been provoked with regard to the lettinger movement at Charleston, S. C. During the last hour the move-ment at the interior towns failing to show a large de-crease in stocks, a few local operators became uneasy and sold their holdings, depressing the market to about last evening's prices. The bearish feeling still predombates, though the bears show no disposition to sustain their connection in lower prices by any fresh sales.

THE CHICAGO MARKET. Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, March II.—Everything dealt in on the board of trade was weak and lower today, and wheat touched the lowest point reached since last year's crop. On the break there was some free covering by shorts, and on all hard spots short sellers wer getting out all they could and longs were unloading. May opened he lower at 85½c, fluctuated for a time-between $8½685½c, then broke to $7½c, rallied to $8½c, when the selling became more urgent, and during the last hour prices touched $7½c, was nervous and irregular near the close, but closed steady at $7½c. regular near the close, but closed steady at 874c Corn was weak. In addition to the depressing influ ence of the government estimate, futures in Liverpool were 32d lower, and holders sold vigorously. It opened only 36c off, but the market was sick from the start, declining throughout the seasion, till near the lose, when it reacted 1 point, and closed with a loss

Oats were active but weak, chiefly in sympathy with the break in wheat and corn, and closed with a loss Hog products opened rather strong on account of the light receipts of and higher prices for hogs, but the weakness in grain and some heavy selling by long, caused a steady decline in prices till near the closes, when there was a slight reaction. Pork shows a loss of 71/2 compared with yesterday. Lard is 5c lower and ribs are off a like amount. The leading futures ranged as follows in Chleago WHEAT-Opening. 40 % 41 % 40% 10 92% 10 923

By Private Wire to A. P. Youngblood. CHICAGO, March 11.—The government report re ceived yesterday after the close of the exchange has had rather a demoralizing effect on all kinds of farm products. Holders one after another became discour products. Holders one after another became discouraged and sold whatever they happened to have on hand. The result was a dull declining market from the opening to nearly the close. We do not look at the situation as particularly bearish. We think if the government report is correct that the stocks of wheat are not large in view of the probable foreign demand when navigation opens. The French and German markets well strong and higher, and reports as we that the are all strong and bigher, and reports say that the growing crop conditions are not favorable. Antwerp, Berlin and Paris dealers were liberal buyers. It seems to require large clearances all the time to sustain prices. While we do not believe that the government report is correct, or that it has any reliable means of incompation concerning the amount of correct. ment report is correct, or that it has any reliable means of information concerning the amount of cornheld in farmers' hands, yet the large estimate de pressed the price of corn. The farmers commenced feeding this crop of corn from 1½ to 2 months earlier than usual, and the price of hogs and cattle has been such as to encourage very heavy feeding ever since. We think the government has not made sufficient allowance for this extra consumption. The demand for hog product for hamediate use has been scarcely anything today. Foreign shipments seem to be unusuallight. Holders were fees sellens of ports. A few of our local speculators are favorable to the short side, and were encouraged to make liberal pales in view of the reduction in grain.

A CLASH OF COURTS

Recause Two of Them Wanted a Lawyer

IT NINE O'CLOCK P Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson Held Between Two Courts on a Question of Time. Judge Clarke Settles It.

Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson was a much wanted man yesterday morning. He was wanted by two courts at the same time; and as he could only be in one place, the two tribunals joined issue, and for a half hour the city court and the superior court were on the verge of a clash

In this case the old rule that possession is nine points of the law seems to have held good. When a lawyer has cases called in two courts at the same time, the rule is that the first tribanal which gets him can hold the man. This time-honored custom was cited in Mr. Jackson's case, but by a decision of exceeding acuteness Judge Marshall Clarke upset the apparent advantage of the city court and held Mr. Jackson until he got through trying his case in the superior court. Judge Van Epps graciously yielded on the ground that he had been guided by the judicial watch instead of the courthouse clock. The situation of the two courts was very much like that arising out of the quaint old Quaker advertisement:

"Ye olde folks concerte will begin at 8 of the clock. As the town clock is somewhat irregular, ye townspeople will be guided by their

Both courts convene at 9 o'clock, and the judges are guided by the bell in the big clock on the tower. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning there was a resounding clang of the big bell, and the two judges turned to their dockets. In the superior court the first case called was that of Bradford against the plaintiff, and Messrs. Tom Cobb Jackson and Pope Barrow for the defendant. In the city court the first thing in order was a group of railroad cases, with Mr. Burton Smith for the plaintiff and Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson for the defendant.

Judge Van Epps looked at his watch, called to court to order and the cases were called. In the big clock was beginning to strike 9 As the big clock was beginning to strike 9 Mr. Jackson rose and announced "ready" for the defendant. He told the court that he had a case on the docket in the superior court, and asked permission to go upstairs and check it. Receiving this momentary leave of absence, he let no grass grow under his feet, but went unstairs with such alacrity that he arrived before the big clock had ceased to strike. Persons in the second ward who have been troubled with insomnia assert that it takes the courthouse clock two minutes to strike 12, and a minute insomnia assert that it takes the courthouse clock two minutes to strike 12, and a minute and a half to strike 9. Certain it is that Mr. Jackson got upstairs before the ninth stroke. The case of Bradford against the Georgia Pacific railroad was called, and Mr. Jackson asked that it be checked, saying his case in the city court had been called, and he had announced ready.

Then ensued a mighty argument. Mr.

Jordan insisted that the case in the superior court go on, and Judge Clarke held that Mr.

court go on, and Judge Clarke held that Mr. Jackson must remain, for if he had been in the court below it was prior to 9 o'clock, and the court was not legally in session.

"But," said Mr. Jackson, "the clock was striking when I announced ready."

And so it was in the superior court when he came in. There was a quandary to perplex a Philadelphia lawyer. Judge Clarke held that it was not 9 until the clock had ceased to strike.

"The purpose of the strokes of the clock," said he, "are to announce the hour. The hour has not been announced until the last stroke has sounded."

has not been announced until the last stroke has sounded."

Hearing of the difficulty, about the time, Mr. Burton Smith ran upstairs to take a hand in the argument. Judge Clarke sent Mr. Cooledge, the court stenographer, down to ask Judge Van Epps the exact time when the case was called in the city court, and several messages passed between the two ludges. Having ascertained the circumstances in both courts, Judge Clarke took the bull by the horns and decided that when the hour of 9 o'clock arrived Mr. Jackson was in his court and the case must go on. Judge Van Epps said that the wall clock, by which he had usually been guided, had been moved a few days before, and as it might be a little out of time, he used his watch. He would not put his watch against the courthouse clock, and remembering Judge Clarke's courteous decisremembering Judge Clarke's courteous decision in the Atlanta and Florida case, he would give way.

So ended a clash of courts which, but for the courtesy of Judge Van Epps, might have resulted in an appeal to the supreme court to decide whether it is 90 clock at the first or last stroke of the bell. As it stands, by the decision of Judge Clarke, it is not 90 clock until the last stroke is heard.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTES

Are Giving a Great Stimulus to the Country Schools of Georgia.

Two months' experience with the teachers' institute points to very gratifying results. Their establishment seems to have put new life into the country schools.

The last legislature did a wise thing in appropriating $25 a county for this purpose. The institutes are already exerting a fine influence. The new system went into effect on the 1st of January, and has been established in about two-thirds of the counties. The custom is for the teachers to meet on one Saturday in each month and form normal classes in the different hyperbeas, tangit in the countries. different branches taught in the common schools. It is in effect the same kind of arrangement for each county as that in vogue in the city of Atlanta, where the superinten-dent of public schools holds normal classes every Saturday.

The board of education and the county school commissioner have charge of the insti-tutes, and, so far, they have succeeded in bringing some competent educators to the work of instruction. Mr. R. J. Guinn, the assistant school com missioner, says the institutes have been largely attended and the contact of thirty or forty teachers tends to stimulate them in the study of improved methods and to make them more thorough in the branches they teach. nissioner Bradwell is out almost every

"Commissioner Bradwell is out almost every Saturday at some one of the these institutes, and his personal influence is doing a great deal to stimulate the teachers," said Mr. Guinn. "Although the institutes have only been in operation two months, their good effect is already apparent. When you bring thirty or forty teachers together, they begin to brighten up at once. If there are any incompetent ones among them, the fact is soon apparent. This is the best possible method- of reaching and strengthening the weak places in the common strengthening the weak places in the common is the best possible method—of reaching and strengthening the weak places in the common school system. I was present at the organization of the institute in Rockdale, my own county, and it was gratifying to see the interest manifested by the teachers. There were thirty-five present, and it was astonishing to see how they caught the spirit of the thing and how they appreciated the recognition the state was giving them in these normal advantages."

Speaking of the school system in general, The common school system is more popular now than ever before. There has been a great awakening of interest among the people, and the old attitude of indifference has given place to the keenest interest and a resolution the beautiful of interesting. The to bring up the standard of instruction. The idea that the negroes are getting most of the advantage of the school fund is erroneous. It has been held up as a bug-bear in the legislature, but there is nothing in it. The attendance of colored pupils does not compare with that of the whites."

Grain for Sweden and Norway. Two years ago Russia was after our cotton; now Sweden, Norway and Denmark are taking up our grain. Mr. C. M. Holst, of Savannah, who is vice consul for these countries, has written Commissioner Nesbutt, of the agricultural department, requesting him to send samples of good varieties of wheat, type and barley, to be sent to the agricultural departments of Sweden, Norway and warh the idea is that they have discovered.

some time ago James Macullar, a wellto-do farmer, living hot far from Anniston, Ala., died. He left a family, who were compelled to attend to the farm. Times proved bad, crops were a failure with them and the mother was compelled to sell the place and pay a mortgage that had been placed on it.

With but little money left the woman and her children moed to Anniston. There she took sick and it finally fell upon the oldest of the three girls, who was but thirteen years old, to support the family. She secured work at some cotton mills, and the bare pittance she recied was all they had with which to support themselves.

Mrs. Macullar, in the meanwhile, failed to improve in health, and she was advised to leave Anniston. Day before yesterday the family of four made preparations to come to Atlanta. They arrived here yesterday, and the oldest girl tried to scure work, but failed. The mother and her children were found shivering on the streets and were brought to the station house.

There was no room for the children at the Home for the Friendless, and it was not known what assistance could be given them. Last night the unfortunate family was sent to Griffin, where the woman hopes to find some relatives. If she is not successful, it will be a sad predicament, indeed, for her.

Cay man Kell readily gave the necessary permission, on condition that it does not conflict with dates on which the use of the hall has been granted to School Commissioner Bradwell. It is understood that there is no conflict of dates, and the congress will be held in the house of representatives.

The preparations for the congress are going on actively. Mr. Kirkpatrik and a large, active finance committee are out raising the necessary expense fund. In the meantime the invitation and press committees are going ricad. Letters will be sent this week to 2,000 editors. The 5,000 engraved invitations will be sent out as soon as they are executed—probably next week.

Among the distinguished men recently invited are Dr. Thomas Gailor, of the University of the South, to whom the bishopric of Georgia was tendered. ### AN ADVERSE REPORT

Will Be Made on the Woodward Ordinance.

CHANGING THE ORDER OF THINGS

In the Police Department-A Meeting of the Police Committee and Police Commissioners Yesterday.

The same order of things as has been In vogue since last April in the police de-partment will continue for some time yet. In other words, the office of chief of detectives and assistant chief of police will remain one and the same as heretofore.

That's the decision of the police committee of the city council. A majority of the members of the police commission con-cur with the police committee in recom-mending to the council that no change be made in the rank and authority of the of detectives.

At Monday's meeting of the city council Alderman Woodward introduced an ordinance changing the ordinance creating the office of assistant chief of police so as to relieve the chief of detectives of the duties of that position, and creating the office of assistant chief of police independent of the chief of detectives. In a nutshell the purpose of the ordinance was to make the chief of detectives and the chief of police heads of two independent departments. After some discussion, a speech by Mr. Woodward and talks by several other councilmen, the ordinance was reported to the police committee and the police commission for joint action.

The Commission Meets. Yesterday afternoon the police committee and the police commission met in Mayor Hemphill's office. There were present Councilmen Hill, Tye and Sawtell. Alderman Shropshire and Commissioners English, Spalding, Brotherton, Gramling and Laird.

Mayor Hemphill, Chief of Police Connolly and several other gentlemen were Chairman Tye, of the police committee Commissioner Brotherton started the bail to rolling by making a speech favoring the change proposed by the ordinance of Mr. Woodward.

Woodward.

"I am not," said he, "in favor of electing a succesor to Captain Couch, yet. I favor this ordinance because I believe that the thief of detectives can best manage the affairs of his own department, unhampered with the duties of chief of police. In the absence of the chief of police, his duties may well be attended to by the senior captain."

Commissioner Laird spoke on the same Chairman English spoke against the ordi-

Chairman English spoke against the ordinance very strongly.

"I am opposed," said he, "to any change in the present system. I think that the chief of detectives can very well manage the limited detective force, and in addition attend to the duties of chief of police when the chief is away. I do not want to take a captain away from his duties, watching after his men to place him atthe station house. It's an experiment begun only last April. It has not been fairly tried. I oppose changing it now." Some Other Views.

Councilman Billie Hill wanted to know the views and wishes of the commissioners before voting on the matter. That's what the conference was called for, he said. Councilman Gramling expressed himself of the same views as Chairman English. Councilman Hill wanted Chief Connolly's views about the matter.

The chief said that he preferred that things remain as it had been. He thought it was best for the department.

"Why do you think so?" asked Mayor Hemphill.
"Because," was the chief's reply, "in my absence the senior captain is only on duty eight hours out of twenty-four. The chief of detectives could be on duty all day. And even when I am here, we could so arrange matters that he could be on duty. atters that he could be on duty when I am off."

And then Dr. Spalding made his maiden speech.

"I am young in the board," said he, "but it seems to me that if the chief of goice and the chairman of the board of police commisting that the present order of sioners agree that the present order of things is good enough, why, the council should accept their judgement in the matter. I am willing to accept it any way."

"It's three to one with the commissionors" remarked Billio Hill "It's three to one with the commission-ers," remarked Billie Hill.
"I move then," said Mr. English, "that the police committee report the ordinance back to the council with an adverse recom-

Chairman Tye put the motion and it was carried, only Mr. Laird and Mr. Brotherton casting dissenting votes.

The action of the committee settled the election of a chief of detectives for last

The Board Organizes.

As soon as the committee adjourned, Chairman English called the board of commissioners to order. He stated that the purpose of the meeting was to organize.

Commissioner Brotherton nominated Commissioner English for chairman of the board to succeed himself.

Every member of the board voted for Captain English, seemingly glad of the privilege.

Captain English, seemings privilege.

Commissioner Gramling nominated Dr.

R. D. Spalding as chairman pro tem., and he was unanimously elected.

Then Mr. Laird, upon motion of Commissioner Brotherton, was made secretary of the board.

Thus in about three minutes was the board of police commissioners of Atlanta board of police commissioners of Atlants organized with a full list of officers. The board then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

REAL ESTATE SALES

AT AUCTION,

Tuesday, March 15th, at 4 o'clock, p. m., Three-Story Brick Building

ON LOT 80x136 Cor. Marietta and Earl Sts.

The John Davis Property.

The John Davis Property.

This is a splendid piece of central business property. The Atlanta saw works occupy thirty feet, being the building formally used by Mr. Davis, for which they pay $600 under a lease which runs until september, 1894.

The building on the other fifty feet is a strong, three-story new brick building put up by Mr. Davis for his own use, but in consequence of the failing health of Mrs. Davis, be finds it necessary to return to Baltimore and has concluded to sell the property. For factory purposes no such a building can be-found; built to hold heavy machinery. Oposite is the new Kiser building, occupied by Conkiln's factory. The location is good. Marietta street is destined to be a main business street, and, the central location gives promise for a rapid increase in value, besides good interest on the investment. It is much better to buy a new well-built building on property than to buy vacant ground, and ho man has bought lots on Marietta street that has not made money. Moneyed men need no advice fromjus, about where to put their cash. We only ask you to look at the property and see for yourselves.

Terms one-third cash, balance to suit purchaser by paying 7 per cent interest semi-annually. Titles perfect.

banks and chilling inhabitants to the marrow.

Tailoring Department. The chief of the Tailoring Department put the vernacular through the wildest gymnastics in description of the stock, its vastness and its beauty There is enthusiasm all through it, and there should be. No reasonable or unreasonable demand can be made that the stock will not satisfy. Absurdity only might be disappointed. The fabrics—Suitings and Trouserings—are bear ful. Novelties of every proper sort. Prices go both extremes. As a whole, absolute completenes in detail just the shade, quality or style for every Tailoring goods are here. The artists—cutters are here. The sewers are handy by. When you com and order your spring suit we'll be ready with perfect appointments. The attention will be prompt, the designing skill will be of the highest order, the me chanical execution will be of the best, and the prices will be right. You can demand no more.

The Suits for Children were a revelation to mo visitors yesterday. The universal expression was surprise and pleasure. Thanks, ladies, this is but beginning. The "to come" shall better and better what you've alread yseen. An earnest of it:

Exquisite Suits in checks of the daintiest colorings. Pretty Suits for tots in neat, solid shades of cloths, Suits of cluster stripes in bright neutral tints.

All the Fine Arts of Tailoring seem for this sea to have bestowed the choicest gifts to enhance attractiveness and charms of our Children's Clo ing. The prices are various as the resources of prices gressive manufacturers, and you know that me many sorts.
